“Successfully Investigating and Responding to Bullying, Harassment, and Hate Crimes in Schools and Cyberspace”

This unique conference will explore the critical role school and police investigations and response play in protecting student victims, deterring perpetrators, and promoting school and community safety when bullying, harassment or hate crimes occur in schools or in cyberspace. Participants will review and analyze a school-based case scenario and a “mock” cross examination of a school principal based on the case study. The interactive conference is designed so participants learn the legal requirements and practical strategies for effectively investigating and responding to reports or complaints of harassment, bullying, and hate crimes, and how to recognize broader patterns of behavior, conflict, and intergroup tensions in a school or community.
