This program is intended to familiarize school administrators with those legal topics with which they should be familiar. It is useful to introduce new administrators to the range of legal issues that they are likely to encounter and to review with experienced administrators new developments about which they should be aware. Among the topics covered are the following: fundamentals of due process, student discipline, child abuse, custody issues, students’ rights, parents’ rights, employees’ rights, student records, free speech issues, academic freedom, religion in the public schools, copyright issues, discrimination law, limit of involvement in political activity, sex education and many more.
